'Twas the night before Christmas at the grand hall

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the hall not a waiter was stirring, not even a manager.

The stockings were hung by the Long Gallery fire with care, in hope that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

The guests were nestled all snug in their beds, while visions of pampering and indulging danced in their heads.

*When out on the halls roof there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.*

Away to the window I flew like a flash, tore open the curtains, and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the idyllic grounds gave the lustre of midday to objects below, when, what to my wondering eyes should appear, but a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick, I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick...
